

Please fill out your identity wheel. You can use the table on page 3 for examples of what might fall into each category.

Here is an example of a filled out identity wheel.

Intro: Oppression manifests across identities by those who are served by dominant culture, and therefore maintain power and privilege within a system (agent group) and those who fall outside dominant culture and therefore experience oppression because of that identity (target group). Fill out your identity wheel and take note of where you fall into the target and agent groups.
